Castro Ramon Reclamation of a piece of land which said Castro declares was arbitrarily taken away from him in the year 1853 and applied to the uses of the Military Colony then existing in the Presidio of Tucson. He further says that at the time this country was transferred to the jurisdiction of the United States by purchase from the Mexican Government that Manuel Gandara at the time Governor of the State of Sonora issued an order to Hilarion Garcia the commander of the Military colony that all the lands which had been appropriated to the uses of the colony should be restored to the citizens who had been their legitimate owners, which order instead of being executed by said commander Garcia he applied the lands to his own uses and those of the other officers under his command. He furthermore declares that this piece of land had belonged to an indian woman named Tomasa from whom he had purchased it — and that he had been some years in possession of and cultivating the land. All of which is respectfully submitted
